USSR-INDIA: Ogarkov's Visit

Details of the arms accord of May 1980 between the USSR and India probably will be worked out during the visit to India next week of Soviet Chief of the General Staff Ogarkov. As the highest ranking Soviet military visitor to New Delhi since 1969, Ogarkov's main objective probably will be to obtain closer bilateral defense co-operation. Although he may renew Soviet requests for naval privileges in India and for joint exercises, the Indians presumably will again reject such overtures. [REDACTED]
